From the Director's Desk

The Director of the NOAA Corps has established core values for the NOAA Commissioned Officer Corps – Honor; Respect; and Commitment. A memorandum outlining those values will be sent to each officer. Similar to the oath that all officers take, core values remind us of the importance of our profession and commitment to duty and the nation.

We have completed all promotion boards for this year. We anticipate having all nominations confirmed by the Senate before they recess for the summer, however, we can never guarantee this, but we will do our best.

CPC has been working with the Office of Legislative Affairs to draft legislation addressing a number of issues which we believe will enhance NOAA Corps operations in the future. As soon as we are able, we will make a copy of the draft legislation available to all.

NEW NOAA COMMISSIONED CORPS WEB SITE

The NOAA Corps has a new web site. (same url <http://www.noaacorps.noaa.gov>)

On Thursday afternoon, the newly revised and expanded NOAA Commissioned Corps Web site was launched. The biggest change is in the Commissioned Personnel Center section - we have now included over 60 new pages of information for current and retired officers.
